

OSCAR WILDE

Oscar Wilde was an important Irish writer and poet. He was born in Dublin on 16th October 1854. His father was an important doctor and his mother a poet. Oscar was an excellent student. He studied first in Dublin then at Oxford. He was funny and clever. When he finished the University, in 1879 Oscar went to live in London and he began to write. He travelled to America, Canada and Paris, and then he returned to London. He visited Italy, too. In 1884 he married Constance Lloyd and had two sons. He wrote poems, short stories, plays for the theatre and one novel. The Canterville ghost was published in 1887. Oscar Wilde died in Paris on 30th November 1900 at the age of 46.

Maestralidia.com

OSCAR WILDE

Oscar Wilde was an important Irish writer and poet. He was born in Dublin on 16th October 1854. His father was an important doctor and his mother a poet. Oscar was an excellent student. He studied first in Dublin then at Oxford. He was funny and clever. When he finished the University, in 1879 Oscar went to live in London and he began to write. He travelled to America, Canada and Paris, then he returned to London. He visited Italy, too. In 1884 he married Constance Lloyd and had two sons. He wrote poems, short stories, plays for the theatre and one novel. The Canterville ghost was published in 1887. Oscar Wilde died in Paris on 30th November 1900 at the age of 46.

Maestralidia.com