

The story of Mr. Larry on Saint Patrick's Day

Mr. Larry O' Connor is very busy getting ready for the party. It's St. Patrick's Day and he loves going to the St. Patrick's Day party every year. He has his green jacket, green tie, and green trousers. First, Mr. Larry has a shower, then he has breakfast: green tea with green biscuits! It's Saint Patrick and everything is green today! After breakfast he puts on his clothes. He puts on his green socks and a green shirt. Then he puts on his green trousers, his green tie and his green jacket.

He smiles when he looks in the mirror. He looks very nice. Mr. Larry goes to the wardrobe to get his green shoes. He can't find them in the wardrobe. He looks under the bed, but the shoes aren't there. He looks in his car. They are not in the car. Mr. Larry looks everywhere, but he can't find his green shoes. His shoes are missing! Oh no, he is going to be late for the party. Then, Mr. Larry remembers he has a pair of red shoes with green bows: his red shoes are perfect with his green clothes. He smiles and puts on his red shoes. He puts on his green hat and goes to the St. Patrick's Day party. Now Mr. Larry is happy!
